Author Daniel J. Boyne will discuss his book

The Red Rose Crew: A True Story of Women, Winning, and the Water

Daniel Boyne is also the author of Kelly: A Father, a Son, an American Quest and Essential Sculling. He has written articles for The Atlantic Monthly, Harvard Magazine, Double Take, Wooden Boat, and Gray's Sporting Journal, among others. Most of his writing has concerned itself with the interplay between sport and society. He has an M.Ed. from Harvard, and currently lives in Cambridge with his wife and daughter.

Daniel has also been teaching sculling and rowing at Harvard for over 30 years and frequently travels around the country to do rowing clinics.
